Caroline Swaffield and Jessica Lock state of the art Hospitality Trade Training Centre.

Certificate I in Hospitality is in its pilot year at St George College, and has been a huge success. All current students are required to participate by advertising their courses, and enrolling their students. One of these students is Eddie Grzeskowiak, and Commander Pat O'Brien.

The completion of these certificates unlocks the door to many pathways including entry to courses at Thebarton Senior College IT coordinator, said that the IT courses are "a fantastic way for students to achieve SACE.

Eddie Grzeskowiak, and Commander Pat O'Brien. The class removed the masking tape off the scaffold to clear the site. The project was overseen by the Southern Suburbs Historical Preservation Society (SSHPS), which is a non-profit organisation that promotes the conservation and preservation of historical buildings and sites.

The key goals of the strategy are to: Increase the number of STEM students in our schools. Prepare students for the future workforce. Increase the number of STEM schools in our network. Increase the number of STEM teachers in our schools.

The process of painting the cannon was time-consuming and required a lot of hard work. The team worked for three days to complete the job. The first day was spent removing the old paint and discolouration. The next two days were spent priming and painting the cannon. The primer and top coats of paint were special, defence force, naval grade paint. The two pack clear, thinners and concrete paint was donated to the project by Jeff Arthur from Paint World.

The team worked hard to get the job done and were pleased with the final result. The cannon now looks better than ever before. The SSHPS is pleased with the work done and plans to do more in the future.

The completion of these courses has helped students to achieve their goals and move onto the next step in their education. The completion of these courses has helped students to achieve their goals and move onto the next step in their education. The completion of these courses has helped students to achieve their goals and move onto the next step in their education.

The completion of these courses has helped students to achieve their goals and move onto the next step in their education. The completion of these courses has helped students to achieve their goals and move onto the next step in their education. The completion of these courses has helped students to achieve their goals and move onto the next step in their education.